Switching to MetLife Pet Insurance is easy.

Don't worry if your furry family members have previously covered pre-existing conditions already covered by your current carrier—they will still be covered if you switch to MetLife Pet Insurance. Here's how it's done:

1. Don't cancel your coverage with your previous provider until after the start date of your MetLife Pet policy.
2. When enrolling, remember to select if your pet has insurance with another pet insurance provider.
3. Keep the declaration page or Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from your old policy as you will need this when submitting claims.
